

LONG ISLAND PLASTIC SURGICAL GROUP HONORS RENOWNED PHYSICIAN WITH JOHN KNOWLES SWINBURNE MEMORIAL AWARD

April 16, 2007 Garden City, N.Y.

A Long Island Plastic Surgical Group, P.C., of Garden City, is honoring world-renowned hand surgeon, David Chiu, MD, FACS, FAAP, with the John Knowles Swinburne Memorial Lecture Award.

The Memorial Lecture Award is one component of an annual visiting professor lecture series named for Dr. John K. Swinburne. Dr. Swinburne served as Director of Resident Education of the Division of Plastic Surgery at Nassau University Medical Center from 1982-1988. He was a partner at Long Island Plastic Surgical Group for 25 years, until his untimely death from cancer in 2000. The lecture series is intended to educate both plastic surgery residents and plastic surgeons in the community. It was started by Dr. Laurence Glickman, of Long Island Plastic Surgical Group, to honor the memory of his friend and former colleague.

The Lecture Series, now in its seventh year, offers the hospital's plastic surgery residents the opportunity to meet and learn from specialists from across the country. Started in 1954, the Residency Program is largely supervised by the twelve Long Island Plastic Surgical Group physicians. It is the only plastic surgery residency program on Long Island; one of just 85 across the country.

Dr. Chiu is Professor of Surgery, Institute of Reconstructive Plastic Surgery, New York University Medical Center. His lecture, entitled: "Semantics in Plastic Surgery" will be Saturday, May 12th, at 11:00. Dr. Chiu will also do morning rounds with the residents. The lecture is open to all interested doctors and medical professionals by calling Long Island Plastic Surgical Group at 516-742-3404.
